

FALL 2024 CONFLICT RESOLUTION COLLOQUIUM SERIES

The Roni Lipton Memorial Lecture

David Matz on the Value of Mentorship

Thursday, December 5, 2024

5:30–7 p.m.

Campus Center Alumni Lounge, 2nd Floor, Room 2551

Much is written about the value of mentorship. Mentors offer constructive feedback and support, help mentees develop skills and expand networks. These relationships benefit mentors by providing opportunities to gain new perspectives, share their knowledge and practice active listening.

Less is written on how to make the most of these important relationships. Please join us for this year's Roni Lipton Memorial Lecture, where the department founder, David Matz will share some stories about his experience as a mentor, but the real goal of the talk will be to make some suggestions about how to be a good mentee.

David Matz was the founding director of the Graduate Programs in Conflict Resolution at UMB in 1986. He has mentored a lot of faculty, staff and students since then.

For disability-related accommodations, including dietary accommodations, please visit www.ada.umb.edu two weeks prior to the event.

Department of Conflict Resolution, Human Security, and Global Governance
Phone: 617.287.7489 • E-mail: conresglobal@umb.edu